Title: “Domestic and Dating Violence – Worth the Tears?”

The goal of the Champion High’s project, “Domestic and Dating Violence - Worth the Tears?,” was to educate 8th through 12th grade students about the rising number of domestic violence cases in our community, the causes of domestic violence, as well as the rise in sexual assaults in the surrounding area, namely on college campuses, and how to prevent them. They rose over $1300 for local women and children’s centers and taught their peers about domestic violence through
